FUND MANAGER'S REPORT

Emerging market currencies sell-off continued this month albeit a tad abated with reduced risk aversion as trade war tensions between US and China intensified following US President Donald Trump's announcing a 10% tariff imposition on a further USD200 billion worth of imports from China, which will rise to 25% by year end. Meantime, the Federal Reserve raised rates for the third this year as expected to 2.25%, ushering 10 year US Treasuries to trade above 3% mark at month close.

Malaysia acknowledges signs of slower momentum to global growth as trade tensions contribute to downside risk. With that Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) kept the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) unchanged at 3.25% amidst absence of inflation threat. August Consumer Price Index (CPI) recorded a muted 0.2% year-on-year while Core inflation declined by 0.2%.
