FUND MANAGER'S REPORT

US economic data showed moderating growth, with June's Headline Consumer Price Index ("CPI") easing to 3.5% Year-on-Year ("YoY") (May: 4.2%), while Core Personal Consumption Expenditure ("PCE") edged lower to 3.3% YoY (May: 3.4%), but remained above the Federal Reserve's ("Fed") 2% target. The labour market softened, with 57,000 non-farm payrolls added in June, while the unemployment rate declined to 4.2%. The US Flash Purchasing Managers' Index ("PMI") rose to 53.6 in July (June: 51.9), supported by stronger services activity. Despite easing inflation, the Fed maintained its rate at 3.50%–3.75% with a cautious stance, as geopolitical risks and higher oil prices added uncertainty to the inflation outlook. US fixed income markets faced continued headwinds in July as US Treasury ("UST") yields rose amid heightened US-Iran geopolitical tensions. The 10-year and 30-year UST yields surpassed 4.7% (+31 basis points ("bps")) and 5.2% (+36 bps) respectively, driven by higher-for-longer rate expectations, inflation pressures and elevated risk premiums.

Malaysia's economy remained resilient, with Q2 Gross Domestic Product ("GDP") growing 5.8%YoY (Q1: 5.4%), driven by robust services and manufacturing activity. Headline inflation eased slightly to 1.9% YoY in June (May: 2.0%), while unemployment remained steady at 3.0%. Given the stable inflation environment, Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") maintained the Overnight Policy Rate ("OPR") at 2.75%, viewing the current policy stance as appropriate to support sustainable growth. BNM noted that domestic demand remained supportive while inflationary pressures were expected to remain contained. Meanwhile, Malaysian Government Securities ("MGS") yields edged higher alongside UST yields but remained supported by strong local demand. The 10-year MGS yield increased to 3.70%, while the ringgit remained stable at around RM4.08/USD as at end-July.

DISCLAIMER

Based on the Fund's portfolio returns as at 30 June 2026, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this Fund is 4.1 and is classified as "Very Low" (source: Lipper). "Very Low" includes funds with VF that are above 0 but not more than 4.57. The VF means there is a possibility for the Fund in generating an upside return or downside return around this VF. The Volatility Class (VC) is assigned by Lipper based on quintile ranks of VF for qualified funds. VF is subject to monthly revision and VC will be revised every six months. The Fund's portfolio may have changed since this date and there is no guarantee that the Fund will continue to have the same VF or VC in the future. Presently, only funds launched in the market for at least 36 months will display their VF and VC.
