FUND MANAGER'S REPORT

The FBM KLCI slipped 0.2% in October to close at 1,609, while the FBM Emas Index edged up 0.3% and the Small Cap Index dipped 0.1%. Market performance was largely muted as renewed foreign outflows (–RM2.7b) offset positive catalysts such as the announcement of Budget 2026, the signing of the U.S.–Malaysia reciprocal trade pact, and another U.S. Federal Reserve rate cut. Domestic institutions were net buyers (+RM3.4b), cushioning the impact of foreign selling.

Budget 2026, the first under the 13th Malaysia Plan (RMK13), sets the tone for Malaysia's next growth phase. Total expenditure of RM470b emphasizes fiscal consolidation, inclusivity, and reform, targeting a narrower deficit of 3.5% of GDP and GDP growth of 4.0–4.5%. The budget focuses on targeted subsidies, infrastructure, renewable energy, and technology investments—laying a solid foundation for sustainable growth.

Globally, the Fed's two consecutive 25bps cuts (in September and October) have fueled hopes of stronger liquidity for emerging markets, though uncertainty persists following Chair Powell's remark that another December cut is "far from a foregone conclusion."

We remain cautiously optimistic. Malaysia's policy continuity, fiscal discipline, and reform-driven momentum underpin its medium-term investment case. Portfolios remain anchored in domestic recovery sectors—consumer, construction, and utilities—while maintaining exposure to future-ready themes such as AI, semiconductors, and data centers. With the FBM KLCI's PER at ~15.2x, roughly one standard deviation below its 10-year average, valuations remain attractive for selective accumulation amid improving policy visibility and macro stability.
