FUND MANAGER'S REPORT

The FBM KLCI declined 4.3% to close at 1,651 points. Similarly, the broader market FBM Emas Index fell 3.7% to 12,292 points, while the FBM Small Cap Index shed 1.0% to 15,951 points.

Foreign investors remained net sellers in September, registering net outflows of RM1.6 billion (August 2026: RM1.9 billion). The KLCI recorded its worst monthly performance YTD, weighed down by persistent foreign selling and a sharp rise in global bond yields, which overshadowed Malaysia's relatively resilient domestic macroeconomic fundamentals. Consequently, foreign shareholding in Malaysian equities declined to a new all-time low of 17.8% as at end-September.

September's sell-off was a macro and flow event rather than a deterioration in Malaysian fundamentals. We expect volatility to persist until the Middle East conflict and the Fed's path become clearer, with oil the key swing factor. Budget 2027 on 9 October is the key near-term catalyst, and positioning ahead of the first FBM KLCI expansion tranche on 21 December is likely to be a 4Q theme.

Portfolios remain anchored in domestic recovery sectors, including construction, healthcare and utilities, while selectively allocating to long-term structural growth themes such as AI, semiconductors, renewable energy and data centres. The fund has also locked in partial profits and rotated into large-cap names during periods of market weakness. Meanwhile, a healthy cash position is maintained to accumulate fundamentally strong companies when opportunities arise.

DISCLAIMER

Based on the Fund's portfolio returns as at 31 August 2026, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this Fund is 22.9 and is classified as "Very High" (source: Lipper). "Very High" includes funds with VF that are above 16.705. The VF means there is a possibility for the Fund in generating an upside return or downside return around this VF. The Volatility Class (VC) is assigned by Lipper based on quintile ranks of VF for qualified funds. VF is subject to monthly revision and VC will be revised every six months. The Fund's portfolio may have changed since this date and there is no guarantee that the Fund will continue to have the same VF or VC in the future. Presently, only funds launched in the market for at least 36 months will display the VF and its VC.
